DIAMONDS AND HEARTS.

Hebraicals are taking place every day for the Commercial club play. The cast now has a correct and thorough understanding of the comedy drama and their respective parts. Each character in the play is original and lifelike. The three pretty young ladies have each a marked individuality, as have also the young doctor, the young villain and his mother. The old bachelor farmer is a fine character of the Josh Whitcomb type. He is a homespun, lovable man, and the scene in his home with his equally attractive sister is one of the strongest in the play. Sammy is an excruciatingly funny dinky helboy, and the other parts are all good. The box office opens this morning at Griffin's book store. Tickets are being sold, by members of the club, which are to be exchanged at the box office for reserved seats. The excellent cast, the good plot, the strong "heart" interest and the abundant comedy all combine to make an excellent drama, and those attending cannot fail to spend an evening of refined and profitable enjoyment. The play will be presented in the opera house Saturday night, April 25.

SHE IS FULL AGAIN.

The steamer Alliance arrived down yesterday too late to cross the bar on flood tide and will leave out this morning at 7 o'clock. She has a full cargo and passenger list as usual, mostly bound for Coos bay. Her passengers number nearly 100, and freight 600 tons. She is fortunate to be afloat after her late experience on a rock on the California coast. She had to steam 65 miles to reach a beach after getting off the rock, and another half hour would have sunk her, as the engine room was badly awash when she was beached. Twenty new planks and a new false keel were put on in drydock.

LIQUID AIR.

It was announced by Professor Clark yesterday that a liquid air demonstration would positively appear here one week from next Saturday. The teachers, headed by Professor Clark, have labored hard to arouse local interest in the proposed exhibition, but the result is expected to be worthy of the toil. Besides the liquid air demonstration there will be a practicable demonstration of marvel of wireless telegraphy. Enough tickets have been disposed of to assure a good house.

WENT TO OYSTERVILLE.

Paul Marion, who left this city via the steamer Nahcotta the early part of the week with rather puzzling suddenness, is at Oysterville and will remain there indefinitely. A letter from him has been received by his brother and the latter is not worrying about him. Paul did not explain his sudden departure, but it is supposed he did not wish to encounter opposition to his plans. A chum of his, who formally resided here had preceded him to Oysterville, and that probably explains the matter.

A GOOD THING.

The proposition on another page of this paper to furnish a set of the noted John L. Stoddard Travel Lectures on the extremely easy terms of 10 cents a day is a liberal offer, and one in which The Astorian is in no way interested. It is no premium catch or cheap John advertising scheme. The coupons are to be sent to this office only as a convenience, and the publishers supply the pictures and sample pages themselves. The work is all that is claimed for it and more.

ELDER PASSES OUT.

The O. R. & N. steamer Elder arrived down from Portland yesterday morning and left out for San Francisco at 6:15. The Elder is in command of Captain Shea. Captain Randall having been transferred to the Columbia, Captain Doran has been relieved of the Columbia and will spend some months visiting in Europe. Captain Shea was formerly master of the Pomona, a steamship belonging to the Pacific Coast Steamship company.

PHONE LINE COMPLETED.

The Lewis and Clark telephone line, so long "proposed," will today become a thing of reality. Trullinger and Hardesty, the electricians who had charge of placing the phone boxes, yesterday completed the work to the draw bridge. This includes practically the entire line the number on this side being so few that they will easily be finished by this evening.

ONE MORE DAY.

M. A. Rolfe the Chicago expert representing Strauss Bros., the leading tailors, could not accommodate all customers in three days, so has arranged to remain today to take measurements for suits at C. H. Coopers'. He has a remarkable display of woolsens in the piece.

HARRY CORSON CLARKE COMING

The announcement that the popular comedian, Harry Corson Clarke, and his company will appear at Fishers' opera house for one night Wednesday April 29, will be received with interest by all lovers of the theater as a place of amusement. Mr. Clarke has long been in the front rank of laughter makers, and, judging from the reports, the play which he will present here forms an excellent medium for his comical talents. In this latest success, which is entitled "His Absent Boy," the comedian has the role of a man of about 50 years who is fond of fun but who is restrained by the possession of a strong minded wife. This lady rules the house and all the efforts of the sporty husband to conceal the deceptions he has practiced on her, the principal of which has been the invention of "an absent boy"—a son by a former marriage—for whose support he is morally responsible and for whom he has induced her to allow him an extra hundred dollars each month. Seat sale opens Tuesday morning at Griffin's book store.

WEDDING OF MISS GOODALE.

On the evening of Wednesday, the 17th inst., Miss Carrie Louise Goodale, daughter of Captain George L. Goodale was married to Mr. Nathaniel Perkins Simonds of Salem, Mass., at Medford, same state. The Mercury-Citizen of that town in describing the ceremony, said: "Following the ushers came the bride with her father, Capt. George L. Goodale, U. S. Army. They were met at the altar by the groom with his brother, Frederick P. Simonds. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Henry C. DeLong, pastor of the Unitarian church. A reception to relatives and a few intimate friends followed at the home of the bride, 122 Park street, where the music was furnished by the Salem Mandolin and Guitar Club Sextette, of which the groom is a member."

DAIRY WORKERS ESCARCE

T. S. Townsend of cheese and butter fame, was in Astoria yesterday looking after his dairy interests. Speaking of the industry Mr. Townsend said: "The dairy business is constantly developing in western Oregon and will continue to do so. It is the business for which this country is preeminently adapted and for which it will become famous. The greatest drawback to it now is a scarcity of help. It is extremely difficult to secure competent help for farms and dairy ranches, which prevents a larger number of cows from being utilized. It seems that men prefer to work in the towns and other places where there are crowds to spend their money. A man working on a farm at $30 and board is far ahead of the city employe at $9 and board himself—financially, and sometimes in other respects, but they don't see it that way."

EPIDEMIC SPREADING.

It is very evident from the following dispatch received at this office from Stanford university last night, that the typhoid fever epidemic there has not been brought under control as had been hoped: "The typhoid situation for the past 24 hours shows an increase of 12 new cases, five of which developed among the students this morning. The total number of cases up to noon today is 35 on the campus and 83 in Palo Alto. A few students are leaving the university every day in accordance with instructions from their parents."

ELECTED TO GEN'L ASSEMBLY.

Rev. Henry Marcotte, who has just returned from attending the annual session of the Portland Presbytery at that city, was elected one of the two ministerial commissioners from the Presbytery to the Presbyterian General Assembly, which meets in Los Angeles next month. Dr. Wilson of Portland is the other ministerial delegate, besides whom two lay delegates were chosen.

PLAYED HIGH FIVE.

The Thursday Afternoon club met yesterday at the home of Mrs. N. A. Marrs. The ladies were charmingly entertained, the feature of the afternoon being the game of High Five, which was indulged by all present. Prizes were won by Miss Sutherland and Mrs. Finch.

EAGLE MEMORIAL DAY.

The committee on the Eagles' memorial day exercises met yesterday and arranged the program for the occasion. It will be composed of musical selections, both instrumental and vocal, while the address of the day will be made by Governor Chamberlain.

NOTICE.

Beaver lodge, No. 55, I. O. O. F., and Gateway Rebekah lodge, No. 77, will celebrate the 8th anniversary of Odd Fellowship on Saturday evening, April 25, at 8 o'clock, in Odd Fellows hall. All members of both lodges with their families and all sojourning members are cordially invited to be present with their families.

THERE IS NONE BETTER.

The neatest and swiftest eating place in Astoria is that famous resort, the Toke Point Oyster House. The best in the market is none too good for its patrons. Short orders and quick service at any hour, and everybody satisfied.

BORN.

To Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Tyberg, of the Lewis and Clark, Thursday, April 23, a son.

Defines the Y. M. C. A.

The Modern Young Men's Christian Association is Different From Early Conception.

"The Y. M. C. A. has changed as much in character during the last 19 years as other businesses have changed," said General Secretary Stone of the Portland Y. M. C. A., who was in Astoria yesterday, and while here, in company with J. W. Ghien, interviewed a number of the business men of the city on the subject of a modern Y. M. C. A. in Astoria at some future time. "No business," continued Mr. Stone, "is the same today as it was then, and the Y. M. C. A. is not an exception. We have profited by a rich experience, and have developed to meet the necessities of men. The institution as it is today exists not to preach to young men and to 'do them good,' but to furnish them with opportunities. Having the opportunities, such as no other society can furnish, they are at liberty to choose for themselves what use to make of them. They are at liberty to play ping pong, basket ball or bowl. They can devote themselves to athletics or Bible study. They can take any of the various courses of industrial or commercial instruction, join the gymnasium classes, attend the prayer meetings, or leave them for others, just as they choose. The idea is to provide something for everybody, to give them the opportunity to do some good for themselves."

"Then we are as broad as the universe. In our Portland association not one-fourth of its members belong to any church at all. There are more Catholics than adherents of any other denomination, and a large number of Hebrews are among our most loyal members."

"The movement as it is now, is making grand headway in the west. Our success in Portland is well known. Salem has purchased the State Life Insurance building and remodeled it for association purposes, now having a property worth $20,000. Whatcom is completing a $25,000 building. Walla Walla is raising funds for a $40,000 building. At Spokane a movement is on foot to erect and equip a building at a cost of from $75,000 to $100,000. Boise has a $25,000 home. Aberdeen is now planning to secure a building; and thus we grow."

"Our membership in Portland is 1900. No single school or college in Oregon has as many pupils as our classes contain. Over 1000 young men and boys are enrolled for gymnasium instruction and 650 in our educational classes. During the winter we have 50 classes, and all lines of study are optional. Basket ball, shorthand, athletics, dominos or early prayers are open to all. It is a mistake to regard a Y. M. C. A. as merely a place for the pious. It seeks to furnish a healthy environment for all."

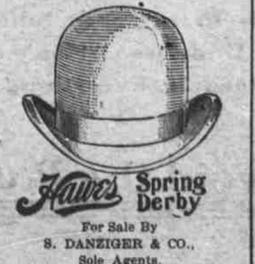

"I see no reason why an up-to-date association, carefully and conservatively planned and under proper management should not be feasible in Astoria in the near future. But it would have to be on broad lines, and include all classes, and should not be started unless with the co-operation of an appreciative public."

THE PLAY LAST NIGHT.

Tolstol's "Resurrection" was played at Fishers' last night to a packed house and the attention manifested throughout was marked. The play is by a master hand and is full of great human interest. The ending was some what depressing, for it seemed that the prince with the impossible name ought really to have married the woman he had, in so repentant a mood sought to rescue from the pitfalls he himself had helped prepare for her. But the heroism of the lady in foregoing such distinction, when the opportunity presented itself to her to become a princess, rather made up for the disappointment. The conditions in Russia and the martyr land of Siberia were vividly portrayed, and the thrilling situations, variously introduced, commanded breathless interest.
